

ELECTRONIC • FUSION SET

ABOUT

Hang Massive are well known all around the world as one of the worlds leading Hang drum pioneers. The Hang is a new instrument hand made in Switzerland only since the year 2000. The Hang Massive acoustic track called " Once Again " has received almost 15 million views online and they have travelled and performed all over the world since the release of that video.

More recently their journey has taken them into a world of electronic fusion where the magical sound of the hang is blended with high quality beats, bass and vibes from a multitude of genres. They have released two electronic EPs and a full length album that demonstrates a wide range of styles and flavours. They have collaborated with well known artists such as Gaudi, Atomic Drop and have projects in the pipeline with artists such as Sick Flip and the mighty Paul Oakenfold.

Hang Massive often accompany their acoustic concerts with huge DJ sets that feature some of their released work as well as many unreleased tracks. Increasingly Hang Massive bring live elements into this part of their show with live hang playing, percussion, vocals and cool electronic effects.

This is a unique and magical show that is sure to get the party rocking as well as bringing the magical sound and vibes of the hang!
